

Estrogen Warning Required By FDA Within Next 60 Days

WASHINGTON (AP) — The sex hormones that an estimated five million American women take to relieve the symptoms of menopause must carry stronger health warnings, the Food and Drug Administration says.

The FDA, in an order issued Monday, said new labels directed at physicians prescribing estrogen must be printed and distributed within the next 60 days.

But the FDA said it wants to hear from the public before it orders other new labels that would explain estrogen risks in plain language for women who take the hormones.

Estrogens for women too old to bear children "are valuable drugs. They are needed when the symptoms of the 'change of life' become severe. The FDA's purpose is to keep these drugs on the market but to reduce overuse and misuse," Commissioner Alexander M. Schmidt said in a statement.

"Because these drugs can cause harm as well as good and because they are different from many other drugs in that they are given to otherwise healthy women undergoing the natural process of menopause," he said, "the FDA believes it essential that women be informed and that they decide for themselves if the risks are worth the benefits."

The proposed warnings for users of estrogen note that it is estimated that more than half of all women undergoing menopause experience only mild symptoms or none at all from "the change of life" and therefore should not take the hormone.

Schmidt had told a Senate subcommittee last Jan. 21 that labeling changes were imminent. In early March, the agency summarized the changes in a drug bulletin sent to 700,000 doctors and other health professionals.

The FDA said it will seek public comment during the next 60 days on proposals to direct new labeling at patients. New labels directed at physicians emphasize that women taking estrogens for more than a year run a higher risk of cancer of the lining of the uterus and that estrogens have been associated with birth defects.

The FDA said physicians should examine patients who take estrogens at least once every six months, and that they should never prescribe estrogens for pregnant women. Estrogens also should not be given to women with breast or uterine cancer, undiagnosed abnormal vaginal bleeding, clotting in the legs or lungs, heart disease, angina chest pains or a stroke, the directions warn.

The FDA said estrogens have not been shown effective in treating nervousness, keeping the skin soft or helping women "feel young" during menopause, and should not be prescribed for those purposes.

Comments on the proposed patient labeling can be mailed to the Hearing Clerk, Food and Drug Administration, Room 4-65, 5600 Fishers Lane, Rockville, Md., 20852.

Ex-Prisoner Talks Of Time In China

WALLINGFORD, Conn. (AP) — John T. Downey, who spent 21 years in a Chinese prison as a U.S. spy, says he doesn't feel embittered toward either his captors or U.S. officials, because he was "caught in an enormous clash of opposing politics."

After the "frustration" of early imprisonment, he said, "I came to change my attitudes towards China and the Chinese vis-a-vis the United States as to how much of a threat, if any, they posed to us."

Downey, 46, reflected on his past as one of America's most celebrated cold war prisoners in an interview Monday with The Associated Press. The interview ended three years of self-imposed public silence following a single news conference on his return in 1973.

During most of his captivity from 1952 to 1973, Downey said he felt the policies of both nations made personal intervention in his behalf almost impossible.

"I definitely felt that I was caught in an enormous clash of politics.... That probably was one reason I didn't feel embittered in terms of thinking somebody should have done something for me, because I felt it had gone beyond that point," he said.

Now, with three successful years of Harvard Law School behind him and word Friday that he had passed the Connecticut bar examination, he leaned back in the conference room of his new law firm, fidgeting as he answered questions.

He is reported to have received upwards of $400,000 in back pay from the Central Intelligence Agency after his release from prison, but he refused to disclose the exact amount.

He also declined to answer most questions about his feelings towards the CIA and former President Richard M. Nixon, who played a role in his release.

Downey did say that he joined the CIA in 1951 after graduating from Yale University because, with the United States becoming involved in the Korean conflict, "it was a glamorous thing, a prestige thing."

He and Richard Fecteau of Lynn, Mass., were in a plane that was shot down a year later over Manchuria in northern China while on a CIA mission. Fecteau was released in 1971.

Downey has said he was not physically abused by his captors except for being held in leg irons during his first 10 months in prison, but he said he was subjected to persistent ideological pressure.

President Ford Fears Saudi-U.S. Discord

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Ford administration is concerned that two proposals in Congress may antagonize Saudi Arabia, an American ally in the Middle East and the largest foreign supplier of oil to the United States.

Administration officials, while warning that acts against Saudi Arabia could lead to higher world oil prices, denied a report that Saudi Arabia has threatened the United States with a new oil embargo. Saudi Arabia has over the past few years been a force for moderation in oil price increases.

The two sources of potential irritation are steps to halt Ford administration plans to sell 650 Maverick air-to-surface missiles to Saudi Arabia, and moves to penalize American firms that honor the Arab boycott of Israel.

Congress takes up both issues this week. Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger appears today at a closed session of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee seeking reversal of its 8-6 vote last Friday urging the Senate to veto the Maverick missile sale.

Assistant Secretary of State Alfred L. Atherton told Congress Monday that blocking the missile sale or other actions against the Saudis could lead them to view these measures as "a pattern of attacks" with consequences "we could come to regret."

Atherton said a veto of the missile sale or other anti-Saudi actions could lead to an increase in the world price of oil because the Saudis "have been holding the line" against an oil price hike within the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries, the oil cartel.

Foreign Relations Committee Chairman John Sparkman of Alabama agreed Monday to have the committee reconsider its Maverick resolution after Vice President Nelson Rockefeller said the Ford administration was "greatly disturbed" about the impact on U.S.-Saudi relations if the missile deal is killed.

Most of those committee members who voted against the sale said they were concerned that the missiles might someday be used against Israel.

Meanwhile, the State Department and the Saudi Arabian embassy here denied a report Sunday by the Middle East News Agency that Saudi Arabia had warned American officials there would be a new oil embargo if Congress enacts legislation aimed at weakening the Arab boycott.

However, the report sparked sharp comments from some congressional figures.

Acting Senate Majority Leader Robert C. Byrd, D-W. Va., declared that Congress should not "react to threats or bow to pressure from the outside," and Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, said President Ford should personally reject "out of hand" any such threat.

Toll Free Phone Service To Laurelville Starts

Toll-free calling both ways between Laurelville and Circleville will begin 12:01 a.m. Sunday (Oct. 3), General Telephone Co. of Ohio announced today.

Taking effect at the same time are new phone numbers for calling "New-Number Information," and business office - repair service.

William D. Anderson of Circleville, customer service manager, said the toll-free calling will be accomplished by dialing the party's seven-digit number.

Laurelville's monthly phone rates will go up slightly, he said. This will account for the larger toll-free calling area. Circleville's rates remain unchanged.

Anderson said new phone books are being distributed. Listed in the directory with Circleville and Laurelville are Ashville and Williamsport.

Beginning Sunday customers can reach either repair service or the business office by dialing a single phone number: 477-1681. It will be listed as "service office" in the introductory section.

Also changed is the number for "New-Number Information." Effective Sunday it will become 474-9274.

The adjusted rates for Laurelville's customers will be 75 cents for one-party service; 70 cents for two-party and 65 cents for four- and multi-party lines. Business one-party service will go up $2.10 a month; two-party, $1.95 and multi-party, $2.

Laurelville exchange, which has 898 customers, currently can dial toll-free to Hallsville's 460 users. Adding Circleville will boost Laurelville's toll-free calling area to 9,022 customers.

This will move Laurelville into the same rate schedule as Circleville, or from Schedule 1 to Schedule 3.

Anderson said Circleville remains in Schedule 3 because the addition of Laurelville is not enough to push it to a higher rate zone.

Circleville currently has access to 10,443 phones, including Ashville's 2,253 and Williamsport's 526. Inclusion of Laurelville will result in a total of 11,341 toll-free phones for Circleville's customers.

Rate Schedule 3 covers 6,001 to 12,000 main telephones, said Anderson. Schedule 1 is 1 to 3,000 main phones.

Establishment of the toll-free service was ordered by the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio in 1974. The PUCO based its decision on testimony at a public hearing conducted Dec. 18, 1973 in Laurelville Town Hall.

Testimony indicated 76 per cent of Laurelville's customers favored removal of the toll charges. Heading a committee to survey customers was Mrs. Phillip M. Everett of Rt. 1, Laurelville.

General opposed establishment of the service, Anderson said, in deference to those customers not wanting to pay higher rates.

Furthermore, the initial investment of facilities to make toll-free service possible cost the company $115,977, he added. Annual cost of maintaining the equipment, plus interest charges, will total $34,456. This, combined with eliminated toll revenues, will result in an annual loss to the company of about $28,000.

"The start of Laurelville-Circleville toll-free service will eliminate the need to dial '1' ahead of calls between the two exchanges," said Anderson.

Customers need only to dial the directory-listed seven-digit numbers, just as with any other local call, he noted.

Anderson reminded users to check familiar phone numbers that are not answered on or after Sunday. It may be that the number has been changed.

Switching to a seven-digit number for New-Number Information is being adopted in Circleville and most other areas served by the company, Anderson said.

It replaces the three-digit code - 113.

Deputies Arrest Two Men Inside Westfall School

Two Circleville men, apparently using pass keys they purchased from an unknown source, were arrested inside the Westfall High School building early Tuesday morning by Pickaway County Sheriff's Deputies.

Charles Raymond Wolfe, 19, Tatman Trailer Court, and Terry Lee Ratcliff, 23, Route 5, have been charged with breaking and entering and theft, according to Sheriff Dwight E. Radcliff.

Ratcliff was carrying a ring of keys that could apparently open all the doors at the school and doors at the Darby and Jackson Schools. The keys had been lost by a janitor several weeks earlier.

The men were carrying several other loose keys, and Ratcliff had a knife and lock picks. He was wearing a right-hand glove and Wolfe was wearing a left-hand glove to a matched set.

Deputy Jim Dixon was responsible for the apprehension.

He was making a routine check of the building 2:42 a.m. Tuesday when he spotted one of the men inside a double door in the hallway. Deputy Dixon used his spotlight to get a better look, but the man attempted to hide behind a door well and then dashed into a near-by room.

The deputy kept watch over the Purpose is to encourage users to look in the phone directory first. The service is intended to provide new numbers or numbers which have been changed, he noted.

"Studies indicate that calls to information have increased 105 per cent in the last 10 years," Anderson said. "And almost 80 per cent of the numbers requested are in the directory."

Abuse of this service causes unnecessary expense which ultimately is paid by all customers, he said.

Operators Convicted

CINCINNATI (AP) — Two Cincinnati nursing home operators were convicted in U.S. District Court to a charge of conspiracy to defraud the federal government.

Asst. U.S. Atty. Ralph Winkler said the conviction marked the first time in the country that a kickback scheme between a pharmacist and a nursing home operator had been successfully prosecuted.

James D. Glass and Donald Glass, the operators, indicted last week by a federal grand jury.

The one-count indictment charged that the two brothers demanded kickbacks from a pharmacist in return for business at seven nursing homes operated by the brothers.

Judge Timothy Hogan ordered a federal probation report prior to sentencing and released the men on their own recognizance.

Flu Vaccine Shipments Under Way

CINCINNATI (AP) — Merrell-National Laboratories, the largest producer of the new swine flu vaccine, said it will begin shipping the first 4.5 million doses today for distribution in 21 states.

Frederick D. Lamb, Merrell's vice president and counsel, said 12.5 million doses of the vaccine will be shipped by Friday to the 50 states and four possessions from the Cincinnati plant. Merrell is a division of Richardson-Merrell Inc.

Lamb said Merrell has contracted to produce 40 per cent of the vaccine. He said he did not know the schedule for shipping to individual states. That is to be handled by the National Center for Disease Control at Atlanta, Ga.

Lamb said that more than half the first 12.5 million doses will be the monovalent vaccine, which will be given to persons between the ages of 18 and 60. The remainder will be bivalent vaccine, for persons older than 60 and those which chronic lung, heart, kidney and metabolic diseases.

Children will not be inoculated under the current program, Lamb said.

Merrell anticipates delivering more than 60 million doses by early next year in shipment of about six million doses every week to 10 days, Lamb said.

Lamb said 470,000 doses would be delivered at Columbus, Ohio Friday for distribution around the state. Cincinnati's inoculation program begins Oct. 7.

Mayors Seek More Aid

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — American cities, facing financial traumas like New York City experienced, still need federal money to redevelop rundown areas, but they want streamlined help, say eastern city officials.

The two-day seminar of the U.S. Conference of Mayors, which ended today, considered reauthorization by Congress next year of the Housing and Community Development Act (CDA) of 1974.

Some representatives urged retaining block grants to cities and others sought a return to the use of categorical grants administered by the government.

Block grants are intended to give cities more say in how they will spend federal money while categorical grants allocate funds for specific purposes.

Mayor Dennis Lynch of Pawtucket, R.I., set the tone of the meeting, saying that without continued federal community assistance dollars, there are "bleak forebodings" of financial afflictions plaguing cities.

Federal Agency Sets Garbage Study

WASHINGTON (AP) — Before you throw those egg shells, coffee grounds and orange peels in the trash can, stop and think about this:

The House of Representatives is willing to spend $282.5 million for a national effort to find something useful that can be made from garbage like that.

The House has passed a bill that would supply the money for research aimed at finding ways to use wastes that now burden most municipal governments. The bill now needs Senate approval.

Most Americans haven't given much thought to trash, except to notice if it hasn't been picked up. And the garbage man has just been some guy who runs over your trash can twice a week.

Still, a very few people already have found a variety of highly useful, although not always esthetic, uses for their garbage.

For instance, in Richmond, Va., houses were made from recycled trash several years ago, but potential homebuyers were somewhat wary about living in something made of compressed things somebody else had thrown away. And newspapers not long ago told of a man who built a house out of his collection of beer

RECENT news stories have announced the withdrawal of the American Red Cross from the American Association of Blood Banks clearing house and have indicated that this may cause a problem in collecting blood, since there will no longer be required replacement of blood by patients and their families. . . .

Mrs. Roliff Wolford, Executive Director of the local chapter points out that these are the rules which have always been in effect in Pickaway County — no one has ever been required to replace or pay for blood. . . . In October, 1975 the Central Ohio Red Cross Blood Center removed all pre-deposit and replacement obligations for the entire region. . . . Since that time the Blood Program has averaged collections of 248 more units each month. . . . This certainly proves that communities can take the responsibility for providing the blood needs of their neighbors. . . .

Of course, it is important that people make special efforts to replace blood for friends and neighbors when large quantities are used. . . . If someone had not donated the blood in advance, it would not have been there to meet their emergency needs. . . .

More than 150 units of blood were used in an unsuccessful attempt to save the life of Eugene Hinton, Route 2, Circleville, who had been hospitalized since July. . . . His family suggests that an excellent memorial to Mr. Hinton would be the donation of a pint of blood and would be much appreciated, when the bloodmobile visits Circleville on Thursday. . . . An appointment may be secured by calling the Red Cross — 474-5736.

President Lists Favorite Shows

RADNOR, Pa. (AP) — President Ford, saying he seldom can watch television network news programs as they are aired, lists Kojak and Police Woman among his favorite shows.

"I used to like Mannix and Cannon, but they're off now. And Rockford Files and one other — Columbo," Ford told TV Guide in an interview to be published Oct. 2.

The President said he seldom is able to watch nightly news programs but views tapes of them the next day. He said he catches up on paperwork at night while watching television with Mrs. Ford.

"I get a lot more work done during the commercials," the President said.

Family Reunited After 2-Year Fight

BOSTON (AP) — Two-year-old Elaine Giffin survived a typhoon and a mountain of government paperwork before she could reunite her parents — 20 months after they had to leave her behind in The Philippines.

"We never would have left her if we'd known it would take this long to get her back," said her father, James Griffin, clutching the wide-eyed child as she was handed into his arms Monday night at Logan International Airport. "My God, she's finally home."

The outlook for reuniting the family was bleak at times. Just one year ago, the Peabody, Mass., couple almost gave up hope of ever seeing their child again.

Griffin was stationed in The Philippines with the U.S. Marines when he married his Filipino wife, Erlinda Evangelica. Their daughter was born in July 1974, in the U.S. Naval Hospital at Subic Bay.

Griffin wanted to leave the service and settle in Massachusetts with his new family, but because of a mix-up in paperwork the couple couldn't get a visa or passport for their new daughter.

Thinking the separation was only temporary, they left Elaine in the care of her aunt and grandfather.

"My wife was heartbroken to go. I had to force her to come with me and leave the baby behind," said the 23-year-old father.

Once here, he wrote letters to the Immigration and Naturalization Service, the State Department and the Justice Department in unsuccessful attempts to obtain the necessary papers to bring his daughter to the United States.

Last September, disgusted and disheartened, the Griffins turned to Rep. Michael Harrington, D-Mass., and the Red Cross.

"I'd never seen a couple so discouraged. They were sick of all the red tape. But I was determined to help them," said Pat Carney, a congressional staff assistant who worked on the case.

Miss Carney sent telegrams to every federal agency she could think of. With the Red Cross helping, the paperwork was straightened out in six months.

Then a further disaster struck. A typhoon slammed into The Philippines in June, smashing the aunt's tiny home. For weeks, the Griffins didn't know if their child was alive or dead. Finally, a letter arrived telling them she was safe and well in a crowded evacuation center.

But the problems weren't over. Griffin couldn't afford $400 for the child's air fare as well as $1,500 for an escort.

The Red Cross managed to secure help from Angel Wings, a division of Pan American World Airways that provides escort service for small children. The airline agreed to take care of Elaine free of charge.

"It was a labor of love," said flight attendant Scott McMann as he gently passed the daughter into her parent's arms. "She couldn't have been a better companion."

Fighting Savage In Lebanon

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Savage fighting was reported today as Syrian troops and tanks launched a new offensive to dislodge Palestinian guerrillas from mountain strongholds overlooking Beirut.

A flurry of Palestinian communiques said their antiaircraft batteries were in action against "unidentified enemy planes" making low passes over a string of seven Palestinian-held summer resort towns 12 to 18 miles east of here.

The top Christian militia commander said Christian forces had joined the Syrian attack and that the entire Christian enclave north of Beirut has been put on a state of alert.

"We have used the Syrian attack to launch an offensive of our own," said Bashir Gemayel, commander of the Phalange party militia, largest on the Christian side.

"We are determined to purge Mount Lebanon of every Palestinian," he said. Bashir is the son of Phalange party leader Pierre Gemayel.

A guerrilla communique said Palestinians and their Lebanese leftist forces were locked in ground and artillery combat with Syrian attackers. It claimed guerrillas had knocked out three Syrian tanks.

Not All Animals As Smart As Mink

DEAR ABBY: Can animals count? I used to see horses in the circus obey their trainers by picking up their feet and putting them down according to the number the trainer called out. My father said there was some kind of trick to it.

But listen to this. We raised a female mink on our farm last year and she had a litter of five. Every day at feeding time this mother mink would make five little patties from her scoop of ground meat, then call her offspring to eat.

She never made six, and she never made four. Always five. So wouldn't you say she could count?

TERRI

DEAR TERRI: I would say that your mother mink could indeed count. But not all animals are as smart as the mink. What other female owns a mink

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

I suffered with eczema as a child and now at the age of 73 it's driving me out of my mind. The itching on my head is unbearable.

Mrs. E. M. G., Fla.

Dear Mrs. G.:

Eczema is a form of dermatitis (skin infection) that is very hard to cure. The crusting, the oozing, the itching, the scaling of the skin, the redness, and even occasional tiny blisters make this a distressing condition.

It takes a combination of drugs and cooperation between the patient and the physician to find the cause. Allergies of all kinds can be responsible. Sensitivity to light, reactions to drugs, contact with plants, flowers or trees, exposure to chemicals, hair dyes, bleaches, anti-perspirants, nail polishes, fabrics like wool, silk or the modern synthetics.

With so many possibilities it is obvious that no quick answer can be found.

However, if you continue to pursue this with your doctors, the chances are great that the cause of the eczema will be uncovered.

Can biopsies ever be performed in the doctor's office rather than in a hospital? I was surprised when my mother had this done in an office. I worried even when the report came back negative.

Miss V. E., N.J.

Dear Miss E.:

A biopsy is the removal of a piece of tissue for microscopic study. Where it is removed does not affect the reliability of the report.

Wherever the biopsy is performed, in a hospital or an office, the tissue is immediately placed in a special solution, and then sent to a pathologist for study. A pathologist is a specialist in the study of tissues and can do his microscopic work either in a hospital or in his private office.

Some situations demand a hospital for biopsy. Others can readily be done in a doctor's office, both with the same degrees of reliability.

Lifting A Cloud

Sunshine laws do little to reduce the size of government bureaucracy, but they do help remove the anonymity which frequently surrounds it. In the process, the idea is to produce more responsible government. One of the positive accomplishments this year in Washington was passage of a new Sunshine Law. Beginning next March, some 50 agencies of the federal government will be required to hold their meetings in public and to advertise in advance the time and place of the meetings. The law does make exceptions for such legitimately sensitive matters as national security. But the wording of the law and background which went into it make it clear that the exceptions are indeed to be exceptions.

Given the nature of bureaucracy, some agencies may try to circumvent the new requirements, or at least give a narrow interpretation to their meaning. That would be a mistake on their part, for one of the major accomplishments of open meetings is to remove the cloud of suspicion that the agency is operating in something less than the best interests of the public.

Make Housework Work

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE
NEW YORK — For thousands of years, it has been the world's oldest (respectable) profession — but only in the last few days has it become hot news. What's hot? "Housework" is hot. It is being soberly discussed in fast seminars, by men and women who would not touch it with a ten-foot mop. It is the subject of nationwide polls to ascertain who still does housework and why, and if women had it to do over again would they (a) give up marriage to avoid the problem, (b) give up long-haired pets to ease the problem, (c) give up their postgraduate studies at Yale and invest the tuition money in high-yield bonds which would secure domestic services for at least six months? In October's national magazines, there are several major articles on "housework," and women's movement groups are busy trying to clarify their stand, saying housework is a rotten job only for those who happen to dislike it and, for heaven's sake, the Equal Rights Amendment will not rob women of the right to stay in the broom closet — all the E.R.A. does is guarantee men equal access.

Two housewives have written a book called "Super-Economy Housecleaning" which is selling like liquid floor wax, and a New York psychiatrist, Dr. Seymour Keitlen, this week released the news that there is such a thing as a "compulsive housecleaner." What does such a person do? She realizes that her behavior is irrational and yet she is driven to dust the furniture in the same way, at the same hour, each day; feeling inadequate in her role as a housewife, she feels she must constantly prove herself. (Please do not write for details. Compulsive housecleaners are not available for hire.) Meantime, a new publication called Mother Jones is featuring a story on Carolyn Reed, a 36-year-old, black, employed housekeeper who, on her afternoon hours off, is trying to organize the domestics labor force into an effective union. Saucy and good-natured, but philosophically indignant, Ms. Reed scrubs marble bathrooms and glistening kitchens at a luxurious brownstone in Manhattan all morning — and then goes out on her rounds, slipping past doormen in elegant apartment buildings and sprinting down the back staircases into the laundry rooms. There she enlists underpaid "maids," usually black, in her union, the Household Technicians of America (HTA). Says Reed: "I've been a servant. Well and good. I've made the gestures a servant must make. I've smiled at Madame. I've bent down to make the bed, bent down to scrub the tiles, bent down to peel vegetables, to listen at doors, to glue my eye to keyholes. But now I stand upright and firm." But she's up against awesome opposition, much of it from the houseworkers she's trying to recruit: they think housework is demeaning, and don't want to admit that's what they do. Isn't it wild? Carolyn Reed wants to professionalize the job, and get houseworkers all the benefits and better pay that women receive on other jobs — and they don't want to admit they do it! Reed tries to tell them that garbage men didn't like their image either, but when they unionized under the name "sanitation workers" — AND won high wages and benefits — they began to respect themselves.

Added to her problem of organizing a disorganized group that may not be ready for a massive labor movement, there is the problem of who is going to pay higher wages, and offer benefits, for housework? Reed believes that more middle and working class women are going to work, and "household technicians" will be a necessity. But will middle-class and working-class women really want to take 9-to-5 jobs outside the home, if they have to hand over the bulk of their salaries to keep their houses clean?

This is the question that approaches the nitty-gritty, and perhaps will ultimately put the housewives' role into perspective. Because of the women's movement, and its consciousness-raising, millions of females now look upon "outside work" as more appealing, or at least a lesser evil, than "inside work" in the home.

However, some day the woman of the house may find that if she goes out of the house to a job, she makes little, if any, more money than the woman she must hire to come into her house and clean it. Then, perhaps office work will lose some of its glamor. When that day comes, the world's oldest (respectable) profession may return to its old self-respectful role. With one exception:

Women who stay home to take care of the house and the family chores will most certainly demand some kind of financial recompense for their work — at least a portion what unionized household technicians are charging. Call it blackmail, or call it common sense. Whatever you call it, on that great come-and-get it day, there'll be the devil (or the husband) to pay.

Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — As both candidates seemed to say during the great presidential debate, the essential issue of this presidential campaign is one of promises versus performance. "His promises or my performance," said President Ford as he stressed what apparently he believes is the difference between the two candidates that is most readily exploited. But the President's expression aptly described also the thrust of Jimmy Carter's argument, in which he viewed his performance as Georgia governor in terms of efficiency, simplicity, responsibility, purposefulness and competency. After listening to the two campaigners and studying the transcript of their debate, one realizes this theme is always there, in the intonations, in the words, behind the words. Neither candidate perceives his opponent's stewardship as anything to brag about. Carter's reorganization of the Georgia government, said Ford, led not to cost-cutting but to a rise in expenditures of more than 50 per cent, and to a 25 per cent increase in the number of government workers. Said Carter: The President's budget-cutting left the nation last year with a $65 billion deficit, the largest in the country's history, more than the deficit in the entire eight years of Presidents Johnson and Kennedy. Both men did their homework for the debate, and they came equipped with lectures on their opponent's record and qualifications that, one might suppose, would have been delivered at some time, no matter what the question asked. They were thoroughly rehearsed on the issues too, but the reference point of the first debate seemed always to be the individual and the image he tried to create for himself. The quest, therefore, was to destroy images. While much of the material of the debates might have been in the nature of personal opinion, the over-all effect did help define two basically different approaches to government. In various ways the President revealed his view that the economic role of government is to create fiscal conditions in which private enterprise, "where five out of six jobs are," can grow. It is appropriate, said Ford, "to point out that through our tax policies we have stimulated added employment throughout the country, the investment tax credit, tax incentives for expansion and modernization of our industrial capacity." Carter revealed a more direct approach, and in fact he suggested that Ford's style was really an absence of leadership. He spoke of obtaining commitments from business, the channeling of money into the private sector, the guaranteeing of mortgage loans to make jobs in construction. While Ford made clear that inflation was the major enemy, the disruptive factor that cost people jobs, Carter maintained "We'll never have an end to the inflation...until we get our people back to work."

Chillicothe Bible Church Setting For Wedding Vows

MR. AND MRS. TERRY LEROY COLLINS

In a double ring ceremony in the Chillicothe Bible Church, Miss Jeri Lu Voss became the bride of Mr. Terry Leroy Collins 1:30 p.m. Aug. 28.

Pastor Harlan Alspach performed the service for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald J. Voss, 4515 Bell Station Road, Circleville, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edison L. Collins, Route 2, Ashville.

The church was decorated with large arrangements of white gladioli, blue carnations, pompon mums, baby's breath and leather leaf emerald greens gracing the altar table flanked with potted palms.

The organist, Miss Lucille Kirkwood, presented a program of music preceding the ceremony. Mrs. Betty Cox, vocalist, was accompanied by Mrs. Jean Cochenour, pianist, as she sang "The Wedding Prayer" and "Thou Wilt Keep Him In Perfect Peace" before the ceremony. As the couple knelt during the ceremony she sang "Whatsoever Things" taken from Philippians 4:8,9.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and mother. She selected a formal length gown of white polyester knit and chiffon with an empire waist. The yoke of illusion featured a lace ruffled neckline of reembroidered lace which also outlined the bib and edged the bishop sleeves. The wateau back flowed gracefully into a chapel length train edged in matching lace. Her caplet of lace and seed pearls held a fingertip veil of illusion trimmed in lace. She carried a colonial bouquet of white sweetheart roses, blue miniature carnations, stephanotis and baby's breath with white ribbon streamers tied in lovers' knots. She wore a diamond teardrop necklace as her only jewelry, a gift from the bridegroom.

Mrs. Curtis L. Fannin served as matron of honor. She was attired in a full length gown of light aqua crepe styled similarly to that of the bride. It featured a bodice and sleeves of sheer nylon multicolor print accented with white lace at the neck and bib yoke and contrasting dark aqua trim at the empire waistline. She carried a white silk rose surrounded with baby's breath and leatherleaf greens tied with aqua blue ribbon forming streamers, a gift from the bride.

Bridesmaids were Miss Julie Pabst, Miss Teresa Jones and Miss Kathy Hoffman. They were gowned identically to the honor attendant in formal length gowns of light aqua blue with white lace trimming. White sweetheart roses with blue baby's breath adorned their hair and they carried single white silk roses, gifts from the bride.

Mr. James A. Voss, brother of the bride, gave each guest a program for the wedding as they signed the register attended by Miss Kathy Perry of Chillicothe.

Mr. Curtis L. Fannin performed the duties of best man. Ushers were Mr. Jeffrey D. Voss, brother of the bride; Mr. Russell Rathburn, cousin of the bridegroom, and Mr. Tim Tosca.

The bride's mother wore a long light aqua blue dress of silk linen polyester with sleeves of sheer multicolored nylon. The bridegroom's mother chose a light blue crepe floor length dress. Corsages for both mothers were of multi-colored carnations, pompons and roses.

A reception in the social room of the church immediately followed the ceremony. The three tiered wedding cake was decorated in blue and white and topped with a heart shaped figure. The base was encircled with baby's breath and leatherleaf greens. Antique glass candle holders, holding lighted blue tapers, flanked the cake. The reception began with the couple holding the first family devotions and prayer before cutting the cake to serve each other.

Hostesses were Miss Enid Heiple, Miss Cindy Ervin, Miss Starla DeBard and Miss Jeanne Swinehart, all from Chillicothe Bible Church. Miss Rhonda Wilcoxsen was in charge of gifts. The hostesses wore lace aprons, gifts from the bride.

As the couple left for a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination, the bride wore a black polyester shantung pantsuit with a print blouse and corsage of miniature carnations, roses and pompons.

The bride and bridegroom are both 1975 graduates of Teays Valley High School. The bride attended Hocking Technical College and is currently employed by the Gates-McDonald Insurance Co. in Columbus. The bridegroom attended The Ohio State University and is presently employed by the Soil Conservation Service as a conservation aide. The couple now resides in Ashville.

Out-of-town guests were from New York, Florida, Michigan and many cities in Ohio.

A rehearsal night picnic was hosted by the bridegroom's parents at Yocktangy Municipal Park in Chillicothe.

Showers and parties honoring the bride preceding the wedding were hosted by Mrs. Carol Ross, Ashville, Mrs. Curtis L. Fannin, and her fellow employes in Columbus.

Hurricane Gloria Drifts In Atlantic

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Gloria, the fourth hurricane of the year, is picking up a little speed but its 75-mile-per-hour strength remains unchanged, the National Hurricane Center in Miami said today.

There has been little change in the Gloria's position since the tropical storm reached hurricane status Monday, forecasters said.

At 10:30 p.m. EDT Monday, the hurricane was centered near latitude 27.0 north, longitude 58.0 west, or slightly less than 550 miles southeast of Bermuda.

Forecasters said Gloria was expected to drift northward at 10 m.p.h. It had been moving at five m.p.h. Gales extended in all directions for a 100-mile radius from the storm center, forecasters said.

Heavy thunderstorms continued early today in central Texas, some producing heavy rain, small hail and gusty winds. Other showers and thundershowers were located along the northern two-thirds of the Atlantic Coast and in Alabama and Georgia.

A few showers were reported along the northern half of the Pacific coast.

Temperatures were near the freezing mark early today through portions of the northern and central Plains and the upper Mississippi Valley. Freeze warnings were in effect for western Nebraska, northeastern Colorado, eastern South Dakota and upper Michigan.

Frost warnings have been issued for northern Kansas, northeastern Nebraska and northwestern Iowa.

Skies were clearing through the western Great Lakes, the upper Mississippi Valley, the central Plains and the central Rockies. Mostly cloudy conditions continued in the rest of the nation.

Circleville Board Of Education Meets

The Circleville Board of Education met at 7 a.m. Tuesday morning in the Board offices at the Junior High building.

The Board appointed Elizabeth Van Sickle as advisor to the Student Council at Circleville High School, and Kelly Boyer as advisor to the Key Club.

Board members also rescinded the policy providing for escrow accounts to conform with state law, which was House Bill 1543.

The Board accepted the resignation of Lillian Eggleton, a custodian at Circleville High School. Her resignation is effective Sept. 30. Superintendent Fritz Jacobs stated that the Board is seeking applicants for the position, male or female.

Rank Conferred At K Of P Meet

James Denman, Chancellor Commander, presided during the Monday meeting of Philos Lodge 64, Knights of Pythias.

At the close of the business session, the lodge was turned over to David Blue, Master of Work, who conferred the Rank of Knight on Joe Stout of Circleville and William Branscomb of Canal Winchester.

Visitors were present from Ashville, Stoutsville, Canal Winchester, and Columbus.

Lunch was served at the close of the activities by the committee of Charles Winter, James Riley, and Kenneth Rittinger.

The forecast today calls for showers and thundershowers extending from southern New England south along the Atlantic Coast, over the Appalachians and along the Gulf Coast into southern Texas.

Showers also were forecast for northern and central California. Cloudy skies were expected across most of the southern Plains and lower Mississippi Valley into Kentucky and Tennessee. Other areas will be mostly sunny, and cool weather will reach from the northern Appalachians across the Great Lakes, Ohio Valley and Mississippi Valley into the southern portions of the Plains and Rockies.

Temperatures around the nation at 3 a.m. EDT ranged from 27 at Hibbing, Minn., to 84 at Galveston, Tex.

Importance Of One-To-One Volunteer To Be Aired

Host instructors for tonight's broadcast of the Volunteers in Criminal Justice series are psychologist Ernest L. V. Shelley and volunteer W. Peter Kramer of Michigan.

Dr. Shelley is currently a Professor of Psychology at Olivet College, Michigan and the Chief Psychologist for the Ingham County Probate Court in Lansing. He also serves in a consultant role to the National Information Center on Volunteerism and to VIP-NCCD. He, for many years, served as the Director of Treatment for the Michigan Department of Corrections and in this capacity became one of the pioneers in the use of the volunteer in corrections.

In his interview, Dr. Shelley speaks of the importance of the role of the one-to-one volunteer in courts and corrections. Calling it the "bread and butter" of the entire volunteer movement, he points to the person-to-person dynamic as the one mechanism which can truly help another in need. He says that 75 per cent of all male offenders lack an adequate idea of the adult male role.

Dr. Shelley stresses three ideas for volunteers to bear in mind; a) to be aware that you are dealing with a human life - not an inanimate object which needs to be shaped; b) to respect an individual's ability to change; c) to realize that one must work very hard to ruin another person.

The second portion of the broadcast is an interview of Royal Oak volunteer, Pete Kramer. Mr. Kramer has served as a volunteer since 1962. He is married, has three children and is presently serving as one of the City Commissioners of Royal Oak. In his interview, Mr. Kramer describes his relationship with his first probationer, pointing out key characteristics of the one-to-one volunteer.

Tonight's broadcast is the seventh in a series of twelve videotapes being aired for public information by CATV under the sponsorship of Pickaway County Volunteers for Youth.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE OHIO CONSTITUTION

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

To adopt new Article XIX, Ohio Constitution

RELATIVE TO LIMITING THE RATES WHICH MAY BE CHARGED TO RESIDENTIAL CONSUMERS FOR FIXED AMOUNTS OF GAS AND ELECTRICITY.

The proposed amendment would require:

1. That residential consumers of gas be charged per cubic foot no more than the average rate charged by their utility to all users of gas. This rate shall apply for the first 30,000 cubic feet of gas used each month during the winter months. In addition, those consumers may be charged no more than 50 per cent additional per cubic foot for the next 20,000 cubic feet of gas used per month during the winter months.
2. That residential consumers of electricity be charged for the first 400 kilowatt hours of electricity per month no more per kilowatt hour than the average rate charged by their utility to all users. Consumers with all electric homes that were substantially completed by the effective date of this amendment shall be charged no more than this rate for the first 2,000 kilowatt hours of electricity used per month during the winter months.
3. That part of those rates which are described above are called lifeline rates and shall not be increased by adding any fuel or purchased gas adjustments or other expense except when rates are set or reset.
4. That any revenues lost to a public utility from the implementation of the lifeline rates be made up equitably from all other rates.
5. That any rate changes necessary to comply with this amendment be implemented within 60 days of the effective date of the amendment.

(Proposed by Initiative Petition)

A majority affirmative vote is necessary for passage.

SHALL THE PROPOSED AMENDMENT BE ADOPTED?

ARGUMENT FOR THE PROPOSED AMENDMENT

ISSUE 4 WILL LOWER RATES FOR AVERAGE RESIDENTIAL CONSUMERS OF GAS AND ELECTRICITY IN OHIO.

With rapidly rising utility bills, it is essential that the residential consumers pay only their fair share. Residential consumers of gas and electricity now pay the highest rates. With today's utility rate structure, the more electricity or gas a customer uses, the less he pays per unit of energy. This discriminates against small users and promotes wasteful consumption.

Issue 4 establishes needed rate reform, known as "Lifeline," that will provide all residential consumers with basic monthly amounts of gas and electricity at no more than the average rate charged by their utility to all users. Lifeline also benefits needy residential consumers without additional tax money and without singling them out for public assistance.

ISSUE 4 WILL ENCOURAGE CONSERVATION BY REWARDING THOSE WHO SAVE.

The more you conserve, the more money you will save over the present rate structure. Energy conservation, besides being a national priority, is key to holding down utility rates in the future. Simple Lifeline rates will help residential consumers to be more aware of their consumption and will promote energy efficiency among large users. The conservation benefits that Issue 4 brings will benefit all consumers in the long run.

ISSUE 4 UPDATES THE RATE STRUCTURES IN OHIO TO REFLECT CHANGING REALITIES.

The present method for setting rates in Ohio is outmoded. Today, we no longer need rate structures to promote use of energy. Instead, we need rate structures to encourage conservation and to make sure that residential consumers pay only for the energy that they use. Issue 4 incorporates these needed reforms into Ohio's rate-making process.

FULL TEXT OF THE PROPOSED AMENDMENT

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF OHIO THAT ARTICLE XIX OF THE OHIO CONSTITUTION BE ENACTED AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. It is hereby declared to be a proper public purpose and the public policy of this state to insure that the residential utility consumers of Ohio are charged a reasonable rate, hereinafter referred to as the lifeline rate, for the minimum amounts of electricity and gas necessary to maintain a minimum standard of living.

Section 2. Public utility rates set in Ohio for consumers of gas and electricity shall insure that:

- (A) Every residential consumer in Ohio shall be charged a lifeline rate for the following quantities of gas and electricity:
 - (i) Except for total electric dwelling units as defined in Section 4(B), the lifeline rate shall apply to the first four hundred (400) kilowatt hours of electricity used during each monthly billing period.
 - (ii) For all total electric dwelling units as defined in Section 4(B), the lifeline rate shall apply to the first two thousand (2000) kilowatt hours of electricity used during each monthly billing period between October 15th and April 15th of each year. Between April 15th and October 15th of each year, the lifeline rate shall apply only to the first four hundred (400) kilowatt hours of electricity used during each monthly billing period.
 - (iii) The lifeline rate shall apply to the first thirty thousand (30,000) cubic feet of gas used during each monthly billing period between October 15th and April 15th of each year.
- (B) The lifeline rate charged by any public utility shall be set not to exceed the average revenue requirement for each kilowatt hour of electricity or cubic foot of gas sold to all users by the utility.
- (C) In the case of residential gas consumers, the total charge per cubic foot for the next twenty thousand (20,000) cubic feet of gas used after the lifeline amount during each monthly billing period between October 15th and April 15th of each year shall be no more than fifty (50) per cent higher than the lifeline rate.
- (D) In no case shall any lifeline rate be increased by adding to it any fuel or purchased gas adjustment, increased cost or expense incurred by a utility except when rates are set or reset.
- (E) Any revenues lost to a public utility from the direct implementation of the lifeline rate shall be made up equitably from all other rates.

Section 3. Each public utility whose rates are set by a division or agency of the state or local government shall file with that division or agency revised rate schedules in conformance with this amendment within thirty (30) days of the effective date of this amendment. The division or agency of the state or local government shall implement any rate changes necessary to comply with this amendment within sixty (60) days of the effective date of this amendment. All other public utilities as are affected by this amendment shall implement such rate changes as are required by this amendment within sixty (60) days of the effective date of this amendment.

Section 4. As used in Article XIX:

- (A) A residential consumer is any natural person or persons who live in one dwelling unit as a principal place of residence and who are charged directly or indirectly for the use of gas or electricity for heating or lighting or otherwise for the benefit of those persons while in that unit.
- (B) A total electric dwelling unit is a dwelling unit which is heated from October 15th to April 15th of each year principally through the use of electricity and which was either in use as a total electric dwelling unit as of the effective date of this amendment or was not yet in use as of the effective date of this amendment but was fully enclosed as of that date and was never used as other than a total electric dwelling unit.
- (C) Monthly billing period is that period of time for which the public utility normally bills its residential consumers. For the purpose of determining the quantities of electricity and gas to which the lifeline rate shall apply, all public utilities shall have twelve (12) monthly billing periods in each calendar year, all of which shall be as equal in length as is reasonably possible. If any portion of a public utility's monthly billing period shall fall within the October 15th to April 15th period specified in Section 2(A) (ii) and (iii), that entire monthly billing period shall be treated as if all of it was included within that period.
- (D) A public utility includes every corporation, company, co partnership, person or association, their lessees, trustees or receivers, who are:
 - (i) engaged in the business of supplying electricity for light, heat or power purposes to consumers within this state, or
 - (ii) engaged in the business of supplying artificial or natural gas for lighting, power or heating purposes to consumers within this state.

Section 5. If any provision of this Article shall be declared unconstitutional or in valid, the other provisions shall remain in effect notwithstanding.

Organizer For UMW Has Tough Job

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Within the past couple of years, Jay Kolenc has been hauled off to a Wyoming prison, jailed in Kentucky and had his car shot full of holes in Ohio. But he says it's all in a day's work.

Kolenc's job is organizing for the United Mine Workers of America, a union whose history is rooted in struggle and violence.

Despite his recent experiences, however, he says things are now much different than back in the days when organizers were routinely beaten and murdered. In those days, he said, "the old timers used to organize with a pick handle and a sack of dynamite. But I never go into an area intending to violate the law and the job really isn't too dangerous except in a few areas where things still can get kinda rough."

He went on to say, though, that his job does make it almost impossible not to occasionally brush up against the law. He recalled an incident not long ago in Ohio where the attorney who led a group of nonunion workers through a picket line also happened to be the local judge, and a partner of the prosecuting attorney. "I'll never forget what he said to me as he walked through that picket line," said Kolenc, a large, rugged man who lives at Rayland, Ohio, and who has been a miner and organizer for 28 of his 46 years. "He said, 'I'll see you tomorrow across the mahogany.' And, by golly, there he was in court the next day."

Ballot Language, Arguments, And Full Text Of Amendments To The Ohio Constitution Proposed By Initiative Petition To Be Submitted To The Voters At The General Election November 2, 1976

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE OHIO CONSTITUTION

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

To adopt new Article XX, Ohio Constitution

RELATIVE TO PROVIDING FOR REPRESENTATION OF RESIDENTIAL UTILITY CONSUMERS IN UTILITY REGULATORY ACTIONS AFFECTING THEIR INTERESTS.

The proposed amendment would provide:

- For a non-profit membership corporation known as the Residential Utility Consumer Action Group (RUCAG) with certain powers and duties, including representation of the interests of residential utility consumers in various utility proceedings.
- For certain controls on public utilities, their officers and employees, and on RUCAG.
- For voluntary membership in RUCAG, contingent upon payment of an annual membership fee of at least $6; for collection of membership fees; and for RUCAG to intervene in utility regulatory proceedings and in judicial review of such proceedings; to force the initiation or completion of utility regulatory proceedings; to conduct investigations; and to require the production of information.
- That RUCAG must reimburse a utility for reasonable accounting and check-off expenses for collecting membership fees, although reimbursement of expenses may be deferred until one year after the first election and installation of trustees.
- For RUCAG to be run by a board of trustees and for the qualification, election, campaign procedures, duties, and terms of office of such board. It also provides for an initial board of trustees to represent consumers and for the operation of such board until the first election.
- For filling vacancies on RUCAG's board of trustees; for all meetings, reports, financial data, and studies of RUCAG to be open to the public; and for removal of any member of the board by petition of the members of RUCAG who voted from his district in the last election.
- That board members will be bonded and are entitled to reimbursement for necessary expenses in the performance of their duties. Complaints which are non-frivolous shall be forwarded to the appropriate regulatory agency which must keep RUCAG informed of actions taken. RUCAG's membership list must be available to members for use consistent with the objectives of RUCAG described in this amendment.
- Penalties for violation of any provision of the amendment.

(Proposed by Initiative Petition)

A majority affirmative vote is necessary for passage.

YES	NO
SHALL THE PROPOSED AMENDMENT BE ADOPTED?

ARGUMENT FOR THE PROPOSED AMENDMENT

ISSUE 5 WILL PROVIDE EXPERTS TO FIGHT UNNECESSARY RATE INCREASES.

It would create the Residential Utility Consumer Action Group (RUCAG), a non-profit organization which will employ attorneys and utility experts to do research, draft laws, and represent consumers of natural gas, electricity and telephone.

The Public Utilities Commission of Ohio (PUCO) claims it must "strike a balance" between the utility and the consumer. Today when government bodies make important decisions on the price and quality of utility service, they are overwhelmed by the army of pro-utility forces. Residential utility consumers need an advocate to match high-paid utility experts, lobbyists and lawyers before the PUCO, legislature, city councils, and courts.

ISSUE 5 WON'T ADD TO GOVERNMENT BUREAUCRACY.

RUCAG won't be a government agency at all, and it will be independent. RUCAG will be funded by voluntary annual membership dues of $6. Consumers who choose membership will control RUCAG through an elected board of directors.

RUCAG'S VOLUNTARY FUNDING WILL INSURE ITS ACCOUNTABILITY AND INDEPENDENCE.

To aid collection of voluntary contributions, a check-off provision will be included with regular billing statements from utilities. Customers can conveniently contribute a small amount and include it with their usual payment. The utility will transfer contributions and a list of contributors to RUCAG. RUCAG will reimburse the utility for administrative costs.

RUCAG WILL PROTECT CONSUMERS WITHOUT INCREASING TAXES OR UTILITY BILLS.

Membership is totally voluntary. RUCAG will be accountable to residential consumers who will only contribute if RUCAG adequately represents their interests. RUCAG is the best way to assure that the consumers voice is heard and that we have fair utility rates for residential consumers now and in the future.

Committee For the Amendment: Robert P. Weaver, Robert L. Loitz,

Edward A. Harter, Pauline L. Brokaw, Brady E. Bancroft.

Ballot Language, Arguments, And Full Text Of Amendments To The Ohio Constitution Proposed By Initiative Petition To Be Submitted To The Voters At The General Election November 2, 1976

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE OHIO CONSTITUTION

6 PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT To adopt Article XV, Section 11, Ohio Constitution

RELATIVE TO ESTABLISHING PROCEDURES FOR LEGISLATIVE HEARINGS AND APPROVAL OF SAFETY FEATURES OF NUCLEAR POWER PLANTS AND RELATED FACILITIES PRIOR TO THEIR CONSTRUCTION OR EXPANSION AND PROCEDURES FOR COMPENSATION OF PERSONS WHO ARE INJURED OR DAMAGED BY THEIR OPERATION OR EXISTENCE.

The proposed amendment would provide:

1. That prior to construction or expansion of a nuclear power plant or related facility legislative approval must first be obtained. Approval is governed by certain guidelines and procedures and hearings must be held. In addition the applicant must acquire sufficient insurance or indemnification to compensate persons who have been injured or damaged.
2. Exceptions from compliance for certain nuclear plants, facilities, and activities.
3. For publication and public review of the adequacy and accuracy of emergency medical aid and evacuation plans for all communities affected by nuclear power plants and related facilities in the state.
4. Procedures for an injured party to recover damages in addition to any other remedy, including Workmen's Compensation, which are caused by the existence or operation of any nuclear power plant or related facility. Defendants in any such suit are to be held strictly liable without proof of negligence. Acts which cause such damages shall be deemed ultrahazardous activities.

ARGUMENT FOR THE PROPOSED AMENDMENT

Ballot Title (prepared by Secretary of State): "PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT RELATIVE TO ESTABLISHING PROCEDURES FOR LEGISLATIVE HEARINGS AND APPROVAL OF SAFETY FEATURES OF NUCLEAR POWER PLANTS AND RELATED FACILITIES PRIOR TO THEIR CONSTRUCTION OR EXPANSION AND PROCEDURES FOR COMPENSATION OF PERSONS WHO ARE INJURED OR DAMAGED BY THEIR OPERATION OR EXISTENCE."

ISSUE 6 IS DESIGNED TO ASSURE THAT FUTURE NUCLEAR POWER PLANTS IN OHIO ARE A SAFE AND SOUND INVESTMENT OF RATEPAYERS MONEY. Each new nuclear power plant envisions a billion dollar investment by the utilities of Ohio. The safety, reliability, and economics of the energy sources on which our state economy runs are too important to delegate solely to federal authorities and utility officials, and are of right a matter of State interest.

ISSUE 6 WILL HELP END THE CONFUSION ABOUT NUCLEAR POWER SAFETY AND ECONOMICS.

The legislature by simple majority vote will approve construction of future nuclear power plants after public hearings. The hearings provide citizen input before accountable elected officials. Unresolved problems of nuclear fuel supply, safety systems, radioactive waste management, security, and economics will receive the scrutiny of experts testifying before the state legislature. The legislature must find that safety systems are effective and methods for handling and disposing of radioactive wastes are safe.

Issue 6 will assure that nuclear power facilities have insurance or indemnification to fully compensate victims of nuclear accidents. All industries in Ohio are liable for hazards to the public; utilities should be no different.

ISSUE 6 WILL PROTECT THE PEOPLE AND BUSINESSES OF OHIO by insuring that demonstrated techniques exist for the safe management of nuclear power and that the public remains financially protected against any nuclear power risks. Issue 6 entrusts our elected representatives to make sure that safety and financial accountability are integral components of our state energy policy.

 - (b) The General Assembly, through a joint committee, has solicited opinions and information from interested persons concerning the safe and economical operation of the plant or facility and has made the materials submitted by the applicant and others available to such persons for comment. Widely publicized open hearings throughout the state shall be held consequent to this solicitation giving full and adequate notice and an opportunity to any person to testify, if being a condition of such hearings that all oral and written opinion, information, or other testimony shall be given under oath. All participants shall be subject to cross examination by members of the joint committee and, subject to reasonable limits posed by the joint committee, by other interested persons at the hearings.
 - (c) The General Assembly, at any regular session, enacts specific enabling legislation permitting approval. In addition, no such enabling legislation shall be passed until the public hearings, as described in subsection 2 (b), have been held and all testimony is complete. Each such act shall include in its preamble a specific finding, as to each plant or facility under consideration, on the basis of clear and convincing evidence, that:
 - (i) The effectiveness of all necessary safeguards and safety systems, including but not limited to the emergency core cooling system, of each such plant or facility has been demonstrated to the satisfaction of the General Assembly by comprehensive and successful testing of substantially similar physical systems in actual operation, to protect and safeguard the people of the State of Ohio; and,
 - (ii) The fuels, radioactive materials, and radioactive wastes of each such plant or facility can be stored, transported, contained, or disposed of with no reasonable foreseeable possibility of endangering the health, safety, and welfare of the people of the State of Ohio by intentional or unintentional escape or diversion of harmful materials or of radioactivity into the natural environment in excess of standards then set by proper authorities charged by law with setting such standards, due to imperfect storage technologies or containment or transportation techniques, earthquakes or other acts of God, theft, sabotage, governmental or social instabilities, or whatever other causes the General Assembly may deem to be reasonably possible, for any period of time during which such fuel and/or waste is, or may continue to be, harmful or radioactive.
 - (3) The provisions of subsection (2) of this section shall not apply to any small scale nuclear fission reactor used solely for educational or research purposes, any place or establishment that uses radioactive materials solely for materials testing purposes, medical purposes, or educational purposes in a public or private school system, or to any nuclear fission power plant or related facility with a valid final construction license obtained from the United States Atomic Energy Commission or its successor agency by January 1, 1976, but shall apply to expansion, alteration, or enlargement of any such nuclear fission power plant or related facility.
 - (4) (a) Judicial review and punishment for violation or noncompliance with the provisions of this section shall be considered by any County Common Pleas Court when petitioned by the Attorney General or any citizen.
 - (b) If any Court finds that a requirement of this section is not being complied with, it shall order the offending person, agency, or the General Assembly to comply with such requirement of this section; failure to comply shall constitute contempt of court. The Court may also award attorney's fees and costs to a prevailing plaintiff.
 - (c) In any action brought to recover compensation or damages or personal injury, property damage, economic loss, or other damage suffered as a result of escape or diversion of radioactivity, or radioactive, chemically toxic, or other harmful materials, or as a result of other injury, damage, or loss, resulting from the existence or operation of a nuclear fission power plant or related facility or activity to the extent that it is involved in the storage, transportation, disposal, use, manufacture, processing, or reprocessing of said materials used in or produced in the course of the production of electricity with the use of nuclear fission, to insure quick and speedy relief, acts resulting from such injury, damage, or loss shall be deemed ultrahazardous activities for which any defendants, jointly and severally, shall be strictly liable without proof of negligence. Any person who has suffered such injury, damage, or loss may sue in the County Common Pleas Court of the county wherein he resides or wherein the injury, damage, or loss occurred to recover full compensation for the injury, damage, or loss. Suit for strict liability under this section shall be in addition to any other remedy, including workmen's compensation, to assure recovery in full of compensation for the injury, damage, or loss.
 - (d) The provisions of this section shall be self-executing and no court shall stay operation hereof, or of any portion hereof, to the benefit of an unsuccessful party in the first court during or pending appeals.
 - (5) (a) The Governor shall annually publish, publicize, and release to the news media and to appropriate officials of affected communities, in a manner designed to inform residents of the affected communities, the entire evacuation plans specified in the licensing of each nuclear fission power plant and related facilities affecting the state, for no more than the costs of reproduction, available to the public upon request, at no more than the costs of reproduction.
 - (b) The Governor shall establish procedures for annual review by state and local officials of emergency medical aid plans and established evacuation plans specified in the licensing of each nuclear fission power plant or related facility affecting the state, with regard for, but not limited to, such factors as the adequacy and accuracy of such plans, changes in traffic patterns, population densities, schools, and industrial developments, and the availability of sufficient hospital and emergency facilities to care for victims of nuclear accidents and other factors as requested by locally elected officials. The procedures shall provide for full public participation in the review.
 - (6) To the extent that this section is inconsistent with any previously existing provisions of the Ohio Constitution, the provisions of this section shall control.
 - (7) If any provision of this section or the application thereof to any person or circumstances is held invalid, under the laws of the United States, such invalidity shall not affect other provisions or applications of this section which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this section are severable.

SHALL THE PROPOSED AMENDMENT BE ADOPTED?

ARGUMENT FOR THE PROPOSED AMENDMENT

ISSUE 7 WILL SIMPLIFY INITIATIVE AND REFERENDUM, BASED ON THE RECOMMENDATIONS OF THE OHIO CONSTITUTIONAL REVISION COMMISSION.

In its 1975 report, the prestigious, bipartisan commission "viewing the entire body of constitutional language on the initiative and referendum concluded that the provisions were confusing and in need of revision."

INITIATIVE AND REFERENDUM ARE BASIC TOOLS OF CITIZEN SELF-GOVERNMENT.

They permit citizens to propose laws and constitutional amendments for voter consideration or to override ill-conceived laws enacted by the legislature. The 1912 Ohio Constitution established initiative and referendum as crucially important "safety valves" to assure state government is responsive to the people. Issue 7 would enable citizens to adopt utility reform measures promoting fair rates and sound utility policies even when the legislature fails to act.

ISSUE 7 BRINGS OHIO INTO LINE WITH THE OTHER 22 STATES WITH INITIATIVE LAWS.

Ohio now has very stringent procedural requirements. The signature totals required by Issue 7 are high enough to keep frivolous measures off the ballot. The Commission found "these processes have been used with restraint by Ohioans in the past, and there seemed no reason they should not continue to be available in the future."

ISSUE 7 IMPROVES THE LEGISLATIVE INITIATIVE BY COMBINING THE BEST FEATURES OF BOTH THE INDIRECT AND DIRECT INITIATIVE PROCESSES.

Petitioners collect 150,000 signatures, then the legislature may enact, and perhaps improve upon, the initiated law. If the legislature fails to act or enacts an unacceptable version, petitioners may ask that the original proposal be put directly on the ballot.

Initiative and referendum are an established "check and balance" built into our Ohio Constitution. They are the purest form of democracy, providing an essential complement to the legislative process and actually improving the legislature's performance and effectiveness. These processes should be readily available to the citizens.

FULL TEXT OF THE PROPOSED AMENDMENT

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF OHIO THAT ARTICLE II EXISTING 1a, 1b, 1c, 1d, 1e, 1f, AND 1g BE REPEALED AND NEW ARTICLE II AND NEW ARTICLE XIV OF THE OHIO CONSTITUTION BE ENACTED AS FOLLOWS:

ARTICLE II
Section 1. The legislative power of the state shall be vested in a General Assembly consisting of a Senate and House of Representatives but the people reserve to themselves the power of initiative and referendum as provided in Article XIV of this Constitution.

ARTICLE XIV
Section 1. The submission of a proposed amendment to this Constitution directly to the electors may be demanded by an initiative petition having printed across the top "Petition for an amendment to the Constitution to be submitted directly to the voters," signed by two hundred fifty thousand electors, certified as provided in Section 6 of this article and filed with the secretary of state. The secretary shall submit the proposed amendment to the electors at the next succeeding general election, or at a special election on the date fixed by law for holding the primary election, whichever is earlier, occurring subsequent to one hundred twenty days after the filing of the petition. If the amendment is adopted by a majority of the electors voting on it, it becomes a part of the Constitution and shall be published by the secretary of state.

Section 2.
(A) The submission of a proposed law to the General Assembly may be demanded by an initiative petition having printed across the top "Petition for a law to be submitted first to the General Assembly," signed by one hundred fifty thousand electors, certified as provided in Section 6 of this article, and filed with the secretary of state. The secretary shall transmit the full text of the proposed law forthwith to the General Assembly.
A law proposed by initiative petition shall not be proposed nor enacted by the General Assembly as an emergency measure. If a law proposed by initiative petition becomes law, either as proposed or in amended form, it shall be treated as a law originating in the General Assembly, except that, if the proposed law is amended by the General Assembly and becomes law, and placed on the ballot for election, it shall be treated as a law originating in the General Assembly, except that, if a request for submission at an election is filed as provided in this section, the submission to the electors of such law, section of such law, or item in such law proposed by the request for submission at an election is rejected by a majority of the electors voting thereon.

(B) If, within six months from the time the proposal is received by the General Assembly the proposed law has not become law as proposed, its submission to the electors may be demanded by a request filed with the secretary of state for submission of the law to the people at an election signed by the members of the committee of petitioners within thirty days after the expiration of the six months except that if the proposed law has become law in amended form, the request for submission at an election shall be filed within thirty days after the amended law has been filed with the secretary of state and the secretary of state has notified the committee of petitioners of such filing. A request for submission at an election may demand submission of the proposed law either as first proposed or with any one or more of the amendments which have been incorporated therein by either or both houses of the General Assembly and it must be accompanied by the text of the proposed submission.

(C) Upon the filing of a request for submission at an election under Division (A) of this section, the secretary of state shall submit the law proposed therein to the electors at the next succeeding General Election, or at a special election on the date fixed by law for holding the primary election, whichever is earlier, occurring subsequent to one hundred twenty days after the filing of the request. If such law is approved by a majority of the electors voting thereon, it takes effect thirty days after the election.

(D) A petition for submission of a proposed law to the General Assembly shall contain more than one subject, which shall be clearly expressed in its title. No such law approved by the voters is subject to veto by the Governor. The limitations expressed in this Constitution on the power of the General Assembly to enact laws shall be deemed limitations on the power of the people to enact laws.

Section 3. No law passed by the General Assembly shall go into effect until ninety days after it is filed with the secretary of state, except as otherwise provided in this section, or Section 2, or Section 4 of this article. During such ninety day period, the submission to the electors of such law, section of such law, or item in such law appropriating money may be demanded by a referendum petition having printed across the top "Referendum Petition for voter consideration of law enacted by the General Assembly," signed by one hundred thousand electors, certified as provided in Section 6 of this article, and filed with the secretary of state. The secretary shall submit such law, section, or item to the electors at the next succeeding general election, or at a special election on the date fixed by law for holding the primary election, whichever is earlier, occurring subsequent to one hundred twenty days after the filing of the petition. No such law, section, or item shall go into effect unless approved by a majority of the electors voting on it. If approved, it shall go into effect thirty days after the election. The filing of a referendum petition proposing the submission of a section or item does not thereby prevent the remainder of the law from going into effect.

Section 4. Laws providing for tax levies, appropriations for the current expenses of the state government and state institutions, and emergency laws necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety, shall go into immediate effect. Such emergency laws upon a vote and may not be subject to the vote of the electors at the next election. The filing of a referendum petition proposing the repeal of such laws shall not prevent the laws from going into effect.

reasons for such necessity shall be set forth in one section of the law, which section shall be passed only upon a vote and may vote, upon a separate roll call thereon. The laws, including such emergency laws, are not subject to the referendum.

Section 5. If conflicting amendments to the Constitution are approved at the same election by a majority of the electors voting thereon, the one receiving the highest number of affirmative votes is the amendment to the Constitution.

Section 6. The style of all constitutional amendments submitted to the electors by petition shall be "Be it resolved by the people of the State of Ohio." The style of all laws submitted first to the General Assembly by initiative petition shall be: "Be it enacted by the General Assembly in response to an initiative petition." Whoever seeks to file an initiative or referendum petition shall first file with the secretary of state and the Ohio Ballot Board a copy of the full text of the proposal to be submitted, together with the names, addresses and written consents of not fewer than three nor more than five electors who have agreed to serve as members of a committee, with a designated chairman thereof, to represent the petitioners in all matters relating to the petition. The board shall, within fifteen days after it receives the text, prepare an identifying caption and a fair and true summary of the proposal and submit them to the secretary of state and to the chairman of the committee. The committee shall then prepare the petition, which shall contain a true copy of the caption and the summary prepared by the board, and shall file a copy of the petition with the secretary of state before solicitation of signatures to the petition. The petition may be circulated and filed in parts but each part shall be identical to the copy filed with the secretary of state. The petition need not contain the full text of the proposal, but if it does not, each solicitor of signatures to the petition shall carry a true copy of the full text with him or her and shall be prepared to furnish a true copy of the full text to any person who requests it. The solicitor of signatures is required to have a true copy of the full text of the proposal summarized in this petition. Upon request, he must present it to you for examination.

Each signer of a petition must be an elector of the state and shall sign his own name indelibly on the petition. The signer's address and the date of signing shall be placed on the petition after the name. Such address shall include the township and county for a resident outside a municipality and the name of the municipality and the street and number, if any, for a resident of a municipality.

On each part of a petition, the name of each of the signatures was made on the stated date in the presence of the solicitor, and that at all times while soliciting he carried with him a true copy of the full text of the proposal, and that the signature of the person whose name it purports to be and that such person is an elector residing at the stated address who had knowledge of the contents of the petition. No affidavit or other certification thereto shall be required. Every petition shall contain a statement to the effect that any falsification is subject to penalties as prescribed by law.

As soon as a certified petition containing a proposal to be submitted to the electors is filed with the secretary of state, the secretary shall transmit the proposal to the Ohio Ballot Board, which shall prescribe the ballot language and an explanation of the proposal in the same manner and subject to the same terms and conditions as apply to issues submitted by the General Assembly pursuant to Section 1 of Article XVI of this Constitution. The ballot shall be prescribed so as to facilitate the separation of opposing arguments. The explanation and the arguments shall not exceed three hundred words each. The proposal, the ballot language, the explanation, and the arguments shall be published once a week for three consecutive weeks preceding the election in at least one newspaper of general circulation in each county of the state where a newspaper is published.

The secretary of state shall cause to be placed on the ballot the caption and the ballot language prepared by the Ballot Board for each proposal contained in a properly certified petition filed with less than the required number of signatures. The petition and signatures shall be presumed to be in all respects sufficient, unless not later than seventy-five days before the election, the petition is proved to be invalid on the signatures insufficient or an action challenging the validity of the petition or one or more signatures is pending, which action was begun not later than one hundred days before the election. No proposal voted on by the electors shall be held unconstitutional or void after the election because of an insufficiency of valid signatures or an invalid petition.

The initiative and referendum provisions of this Constitution shall be self-executing, except as otherwise provided. Laws may be passed to facilitate their operation, but in no way limiting or restricting either such provisions or the powers reserved to the people.

Section 7. The initiative and referendum powers are reserved to the people of each municipality and each county on all matters which such municipality or county may now or hereafter be authorized to control by legislative action. Such powers shall be exercised in the manner now or hereafter provided by the charter of the municipality or county or, if not so provided, in the manner now or hereafter provided by law.

Effective Date and Repeal
If adopted by a majority of the electors voting on this amendment, the amendment shall take immediate effect and existing Section 1 of Article II and Sections 1a, 1b, 1c, 1d, 1e, 1f, and 1g of Article II of the Constitution of Ohio shall be repealed from such effective date.

Rare Photographs Of Wright Brothers Homecoming Preserved

Wright State University recently acquired a collection of rare photographic negatives chronicling the triumphant 1909 Dayton homecoming of the Wright Brothers.

Local, state, national and international government figures were present to greet the Wright Brothers upon their return from France.

Andrew S. Iddings, a Dayton businessman and world-renowned photographer and explorer who died over two years ago, had taken the photographs during the June, 1909 homecoming celebration in which nearly all of Dayton joined to honor the Wright Brothers. According to experts, most of the negatives were never printed for public viewing.

Since 1909, the 155 cellulose nitrate negatives had remained unnoticed in the attic of Iddings' mansion. Late last year, Iddings' heir, Brooks Walters, a Dayton realtor, discovered the negatives, perfectly preserved in individualized envelope containers.

Walters had the negatives contact printed, still not sure of their content. Upon inspection, he realized that they captured the spirit and activity of the entire homecoming celebration.

Aided by a grant from the Iddings Benevolent Trust, Walters has now presented these documents of turn-of-the-century Dayton and aviation to Wright State.

The appraised value of the original negatives has been set at $28,000, according to Dr. Patrick Nolan, head of Wright State's Archives and Special Collections, where the negatives will be stored.

Prints of the negatives will be made available to researchers and for display, while the originals will be safely preserved, Nolan said.

Highlights of the photographs include over 2,000 Dayton school children standing to form a huge human flag of the United States, a parade through Dayton, and the Wright Brothers receiving medals and awards from several nations. Besides detailing the homecoming ceremony, the photographs provide a valuable record of Dayton in the early twentieth century, Nolan said.

Bridges And Apples Shown At Festivals

Festivals at two Oxford-area landmarks are planned for consecutive October Sundays to show off new improvements and raise funds for further preservation: a Covered Bridge Day Oct. 3 at the Pugh Bridge across Tallawanda Creek near Route 732 north of Oxford, and the annual Apple Butter Day Oct. 10 at the Pioneer Farm and Home Museum on Brown Road near Hueston Woods State Park.

Both festivals are projects of the Oxford Museum Association.

The all-day Covered Bridge festival is planned as an informal event featuring old-time music, arts-crafts exhibits, rides across the countryside in mule-drawn wagons, and at some time around mid-day, a talk on the history and significance of covered bridges by a local historian.

Apple Butter Day features the sale of apple butter which is being cooked on the site in large copper kettles, and as usual the Museum Association will be selling fresh apples, cider, Indian corn, gourds, and other autumn products.

Maple syrup, a reminder of last winter's Hueston Woods Maple Syrup Festival, also will be sold at each event.

Case Western Starting New Nursing Program

Registered nurses with bachelors' degrees are being sought by the medical field nationwide, and to meet the rising need, Wittenberg University has begun a cooperative program in nursing with Case Western Reserve University.

The 3-2 program allows students enrolled to spend three years at Wittenberg majoring in biology. If, after three years, these students decide they wish to pursue the nursing field, they may apply to the Frances Payne Bolton School of Nursing at Case Western Reserve during their junior year.

If accepted, pre-nursing students then enter a two-year nursing program at Case Western where they will receive all the requirements for a Bachelor of Science in Nursing (BSN) and the clinical training for an RN.

The student then receives a bachelor of arts in biology from Wittenberg at the end of the first year at Case Western and the BSN is granted at Case Western at the end of the two-year program.

The nursing program at Wittenberg is still an infant but it was instituted because of increasing requests by students, according to Marga Smith, nursing advisor at Wittenberg who holds a BSN.

There are approximately 10 freshmen presently interested in pursuing a nursing career, which indicated a rise in interest, according to Smith.

The cooperative program with Wittenberg is one of four which the School of Nursing at Case supports. The other schools are Heidelberg, Marietta and Ashland.

Cardiovascular Diseases Are No. 1 Killer

It is common knowledge that cardiovascular diseases — especially heart attack and stroke — are the number one killers in the United States. In 1973, heart attack claimed 684,066 lives while strokes accounted for another 214,313.

Yet, extensive clinical and statistical studies seem to have identified a number of factors as contributing to an increased risk of cardiovascular diseases. And there is increasing evidence that early identification and modification of the majority of these factors can help prevent or retard the development of atherosclerosis which is believed to set the stage for heart attack and stroke.

Unfortunately, in the past, most of our national concern and resources have gone into treating the ravages of cardiovascular diseases rather than into preventative programs.

The announcement, therefore, that the YMCA has launched a nationwide cardiovascular health program designed to work at prevention of early stages of heart disease, at health maintenance for the apparently healthy and at early disease detection and therapy is welcome news indeed.

Here in Pickaway County, the YMCA is moving forward with the "Prevent" program for those who have completed their personal fitness evaluation. Also for those who still want to participate in regular exercise classes, there is a good selection of times and types for all ages.

The YMCA now offers exercise equipment, jogging, rowing and pacing machines and a bicycle in the new Hall of Health.

For those who feel that they have a little too much weight for exercise classes, the Pickaway County Family Y has the new Slim Living classes, which are not diet, but learning to lead a slim life through education, motivation and body awareness.

Michigan Leads AP Football Poll

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Tony Dorsett remembers leaner years when the University of Pittsburgh football team would get especially aroused to meet a highly ranked foe.

"Now the shoe is on the other foot," Dorsett said Monday after Pitt jumped from third to second behind Michigan in The Associated Press college football poll.

"A few years ago, Pitt had no ranking and no respect," added Dorsett, who has 4,540 career yards rushing going into Saturday's game at Duke.

"I remember how it was always easy to get mentally fired up when we played teams like Notre Dame, Southern Cal and Oklahoma.

"Now other teams feel the same way about us. Beating Pitt can make their season, and they all come after us. Our being No. 2 will just make them try harder."

Dorsett was a senior at nearby Hopewell High School in 1972 when Pitt labored through a 1-10 season.

The Panthers of Coach Johnny Majors are 3-0 this year after victories over Notre Dame, Georgia Tech and Temple.

Unranked Temple led 7-6 at halftime Saturday before Dorsett keyed a second-half surge that rallied Pitt to 21-7 triumph. And the feeling at Pitt was that the Panthers might slip a bit in the rankings.

However, previously second-ranked Ohio State was beaten by Missouri, and Pitt was voted into the second spot — the highest the Panthers have been since 1963.

Pitt hasn't won a national title since it went 9-0-1 under Coach Jock Sutherland in 1937.

"I don't believe our players are getting too excited right now," said Majors.

Ohio State suffered a 22-21 upset defeat to Missouri on Saturday and a demotion from second place to eighth in the weekly balloting. Unbeaten Oklahoma, the defending two-time national champions, received three first-place votes — one more than Pittsburgh — and held third with 912 points after topping Florida State 24-9.

UCLA was 40 points further back in fourth after stomping Air Force 40-9, then Nebraska rounded out the top five on the strength of a 64-10 rout of Texas Christian.

Georgia, 20-12 victors over South Carolina, held sixth place with 597 points. Seventh-rated Maryland, which popped Syracuse 42-28, was 106 points back.

Kansas, which was idle last Saturday, followed Ohio State in ninth, while Alabama took 10th after trouncing Vanderbilt 42-14.

Louisiana State, Missouri, Southern Cal, North Carolina and Boston College were followed by Mississippi, Texas Tech, Notre Dame, Florida and

Oakland A's Stop Royals In 8-3 Clash

OAKLAND (AP) — The opening of a do-or-die series with the Kansas City Royals brought out the best in the Oakland A's and the beast in some of their fans.

"It was a tough game, a big one to win. But it means nothing unless we win the rest of them," Phil Garner said early today after an 8-3 victory which left the A's 3½ games behind first-place Kansas City with six games to go in the American League West race.

The start of the Monday night baseball game, which drew a crowd of 37,914, was delayed more than an hour because of rain. Two fights, one on the field between the players and the second between fans and Kansas City players, stopped play in the decisive sixth inning.

The Detroit at Cleveland game was postponed because of rain. No other games were scheduled Monday.

"Things are tense and any little thing can set off something like that," said the Royals' George Brett, referring to the brawl which broke out on the field after Dennis Leonard hit the A's Don Baylor with a pitch.

"I thought everyone was coming out to shake my hand because I hit a homer," Sal Bando joked later. His leadoff home run gave the A's and pitcher Vida Blue, 18-12, a 5-3 lead and Baylor was hit by the next pitch from Leonard.

Decided Lady Winner Of Latonia Feature

FLORENCE, Ky. (AP) — Decided Lady won the $3,200 featured eighth race at Latonia by half a length Monday night in 1:37.3-5 for the mile and paid $6, $2.60 and $2.20.

Certain Roman was second, $2.40 and $2.20 and Sticks N' Bones, third, $2.40.

Penn State in the Second Ten.

Arkansas and Illinois dropped out of the ratings while Missouri made its return with the Ohio State triumph and Notre Dame and Florida also reappeared after two-week absences.

CHS Spikers Top Indians In SCOL Play

Circleville's girls volleyball team ran its undefeated streak to four as the Tigers topped Hillsboro 15-12 and 15-8 on the winner's court.

After failing to score in their first four serving attempts, Sue Frericks served five straight points to get the Tigers started. Hillsboro rallied to take a 12-10 lead in the game but Natalie Martin converted four straight serves to send the Tigers ahead 14-12 and Sue Frericks served the winning point.

With the second game tied at 7-7, Sue Frericks served four straight points and Natalie Martin followed with four more to end the game.

It was a fine overall team victory with Brenna Lintner having a 78 per cent efficiency rating on defense, Sue Frericks had 68 per cent and Jane Cole 88 per cent.

Circleville had the most spikes of any match this season with Jane Cole, Natalie Martin and Sue Frericks combining for 80 per cent efficiency. Excellent sets were made by Sue Stevenson and Michelle Nolan who combined for 90 per cent efficiency. Sue Frericks had 11 serving points and Natalie Martin eight.

"We had to work hard for our points as our serving game was not as strong as it has been in previous games," Circleville coach Joy O'Brien commented.

Circleville's reserves also stopped Hillsboro in two straight games, 15-10 and 15-3.

Cathy Price and Cindy Johnson led the offense while Karen Lundberg, Cindy Johnson, Sue Uland and Cathy Price were outstanding on defense.

The varsity is now 4-0 for the season and 2-0 in South Central Ohio League play while the reserves are 3-1.

Both will be home 6:30 p.m. Thursday when coach Kathi Thompson brings her Logan Elm Braves into Roundtown to meet the Tigers.

Moeller, Ironton, Newark Lead Poll

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Some time-tested powers are in a challenging position again in The Associated Press' first Ohio high school football ratings of the 1976 season.

Cincinnati Moeller, the Class AAA pacesetter, was the 1974 poll champion and finished second behind Lakewood St. Edward a year ago.

Ironton, No. 5 in Class AA last fall, surged into the No. 1 spot Monday in the balloting by a statewide panel of sports writers and broadcasters.

Newark Catholic, waging a tight duel with defending playoff king Carey, is a multi-former champion of the Class A set. The Green Wave is off to another impressive start for the No. 1 spot.

Moeller has been so overpowering this fall that one voter cracked Monday, "Put Moeller in all 10 places in Class AAA."

The Cincinnati school piled up 244 points, a runaway No. 1 selection over second-place Findlay with 145 points. Gahanna Lincoln, another 3-0-0 power, used a 10-0 decision at Massillon to take the third spot with 132 points.

In Class AAA, Akron Garfield owned the fourth position while Zanesville was fifth, Niles sixth, Youngstown Mooney seventh, Warren Harding eighth, Cincinnati Princeton ninth and St. Edward 10th. All carry 3-0-0 records.

A three-sided duel is shaping up in Class AA with only 12 points separating the first three rated teams. Ironton has 93, No. 2 Akron St. Vincent-St. Mary 84 and third-place Cincinnati Wyoming, the defending champion, 81.

Huron was a distant fourth in Class AA, followed by Huron, St. Marys, Columbus Waterson, Brookville, Elyria Catholic, Shelby and New Lexington.

All the Class AA Top Ten are 3-0-0 except St. Vincent-St. Mary and Waterson, both 2-1-0.

Newark Catholic had the narrowest lead, 118-115, over Carey in Class A. Carey whipped the Green Wave 15-7 playoffs, using a sudden death overtime to do it.

Sandusky St. Mary's owned the third spot in Class A with Cedarville fourth, Sullivan Black River fifth, West Alexandria Twin Valley South sixth and Newcomerstown seventh.

Ridgeway Ridgmont and Bluffton were tied for eighth and Cleveland Cuyahoga Heights held down the No. 10 position. The ranked teams are all 3-0-0 in Class A.

Tiger Freshmen Blank Lancaster

Danny Martin set the stage for the Tiger freshmen when he returned the opening kickoff 99 yards for a touchdown as Circleville went on to beat Lancaster Stanberry Gold 30-0 on the loser's field.

Anthony Smith tallied the second Circleville touchdown on a 29-yard pass from Mike Contino. Keith Lewis scored on a 5-yard run, Jack Fuller picked up a fumble and rambled 30 yards to paydirt, Scott Allen nailed the Lancaster punter for a safety while Keith Lewis and Danny Martin carried over for two point conversions.

Circleville coaches had high praise for the first and second defensive units who came up with their second consecutive shutout and for the work of the offensive line.

Mike Contino connected on two out of three passes and has thrown for a touchdown in each of the Tigers games.

Circleville will host Miami Trace 4:30 p.m. Thursday.

Tiger 7th Graders Lose To Blue Lions

Circleville's seventh grade football team dropped a 14-0 decision to visiting Washington C.H. Monday.

The Blue Lions tallied on a 50-yard run and a two-point conversion in the first quarter and added six more points in the fourth period on a 5-yard run.

Circleville is now 1-1 and will host Greenfield 4:30 p.m. Monday.

UCLA Grid Injuries May Hurt Contest

LOS ANGELES (AP) — It'll be a UCLA football team that's ranked No. 4 in the nation against an Ohio State rated No. 8 this week when the Rose Bowl foes of 272 days ago meet again Saturday.

However, the Bruins learned Monday that their two top running backs, Wendell Tyler, the school's all-time leading rusher, and Theotis Brown may not play due to injuries.

San Diego Gets Past Reds, 5-3

SAN DIEGO (AP) — For most baseball players not on teams going onto the playoffs, the end of the season will be welcomed.

But that isn't the case with San Diego Padre right-hander Tom Griffin. "I'm going to hate to see the season end," said Griffin Monday night, "because my arm is just getting into good shape."

Griffin proved his point earlier by going the distance for a 5-3 victory over the Cincinnati Reds, only the 19th time this season a starter has made it the finish against the powerful Reds.

The hard-throwing Griffin struck out four and walked six while scattering seven hits enroute to his third complete game. He improved his record to 8-6.

"They got Griffin on waivers—I can't believe it," said Reds manager Sparky Anderson by way of praise afterward.

It's true. The Padres picked Griffin up on waivers from the Houston Astros in July and the 28-year-old hurler has shown steady progress since.

"I've been getting the chance to pitch regularly with the Padres and I couldn't be happier being with this club," he said. "When this season ends, I'm going to have a tough time waiting until spring training."

Despite spells of wildness along the way, Griffin finally triumphed when the Padres rallied for three runs in the eightth inning to erase a 3-2 deficit.

The rally came off reliever Santo Alcala, who took over for starter Don Gullett and promptly got in trouble when Johnny Grubb led off with a single and Bobby Valentine drew a walk.

Padre first baseman Mike Ivie then tied the game at 3-3 with a single to left and Doug Rader decided it with a two-run bloop double that actually dropped on the right field chalk line.

"I wanted to pitch a no-hitter for him," said Don Sutton. "I've played for the guy 11 years and he has been honest with me every minute of it."

Sutton, like most of his teammates on the Los Angeles Dodgers, was deeply moved by the announcement Monday that Walter Alston was retiring after 23 years as manager of the team. For him, beating the Houston Astros Monday night was especially important.

Elsewhere in the National League Monday night, the New York Mets pounded the Montreal Expos 10-3, the Philadelphia Phillies routed the St. Louis Cardinals 9-1 and the San Diego Padres beat the Cincinnati Reds 5-3.

Sutton, 21-9, struck out three and walked two in posting his fourth shutout of the season and the 44th of his career, most among active National Leaguers. He allowed just one runner past second base. It was his ninth consecutive victory and 14th in his last 15 decisions, and it was an emotional one.

Bill Russell singled home Steve Garvey in the seventh inning to break a scoreless duel between Sutton and Houston's Dan Larson, 5-8. The Dodgers added a second run in the eighth inning when Dave Lopes walked, stole second — his second stolen base of the game and 61st of the season — and came home on Bill Buckner's single.

Mets 10, Expos 3

John Milner drove in six runs for the Mets with a pair of homers, a two-run shot in the third inning and his third grand slam of the season in the sixth. Milner now has 15 homers and 78 runs batted in this season, the latter a career high.

Jon Matlack, 17-9, scattered seven hits, pitching his 15th complete game of the season.

Phils 9, Cards 1

Jerry Martin hit his first home run of the season and Greg Luzinski, Larry Bowa and Ollie Brown drove in two runs apiece as the Phils posted their ninth win in the last 11 games. Jim Kaat, 12-14, posted his first victory since Aug. 21, snapping a personal six-game losing streak.

Perry Hoskins Gains Starting Berth With Scots

PERRY HOSKINS

"Perry's a fine ballplayer," The College of Wooster's head football coach, Don Hunsinger, said in reference to Circleville's Perry Hoskins. "Right now, he's in a three-way battle for a starting position in our defensive backfield."

Well that three-way battle is over after three weeks of pre-season drills with Hoskins emerging as a starter in the Fighting Scot defensive secondary.

The 6-0, 160-pound sophomore lettered at Wooster last season as a freshman, contributing to Wooster's team total of seven interceptions by making one steal. With a regular position in the bank this year, that total could increase this season, especially after reviewing Hoskins' high school football record.

A three-year letterman at Circleville High School, Hoskins was selected as his football team's Most Valuable Player and Most Valuable Defensive Back his senior year, fitting tributes for the eight interceptions he nailed that season. Hoskins also earned three baseball and two basketball letters at Circleville.

A biology major at Wooster, Hoskins is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul B. Hoskins of 124 Parkview Ave.

SIGHTING IN — Tom Weldon, Pickaway County Game Protector, was one of the many participants in the Pickaway Farmers and Sportsmen's Association open house, held Saturday at the club's facility on U.S. Route 22 east of Circleville. Weldon is pictured here drawing a bead on the 50 yard target with the .224 semi-automatic rifle. The PFSA held the open house in conjunction with National Hunting and Fishing Day, the purpose of which is to stress the conservation efforts being made by various outdoor clubs throughout the country. Persons attending had the opportunity to target practice with a variety of firearms on the gunrange as well as on the club's archery range with many different bow and arrow collections.

Redskins Edge Eagles; Win 20-17

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Washington Redskins presented Coach George Allen with his 100th National Football League victory and the veteran coach's quick thinking on the sidelines had more than a little to do with the triumph.

Mark Moseley booted a 29-yard field goal 12 minutes and 49 seconds into a sudden death period of Monday night's nationally televised game to give the unbeaten Redskins a 20-17 triumph over the Philadelphia Eagles. But there would have been no sudden death, no victory without Allen.

The 54-year-old Allen, in his 11th season as a NFL coach, made himself a factor in the game with 12 seconds left in the first half. The Eagles led 10-3, and had a third-down-and-six at their 35-yard line.

Washington's defense started to leave the field figuring the clock would run out, but Allen ever alert, waved his defenders back and shouted for a time out.

"I called time out and told them to blitz, try to hit them on the exchange of the ball," Allen explained. "I felt that with 12 seconds left if we stopped them there, we'd go for the blocked punt."

The Skins blitzed and Harold McClinton and Dave Butz hit Eagles' ball carrier Herb Lusk like a couple of trucks. Lusk fumbled the ball in the air, and Washington linebacker Brad Dusek picked it off and raced 32 yards for a touchdown.

Ali-Norton Fight Tonight

NEW YORK (AP) — "This is the end of my career," says Muhammad Ali, who puts the heavyweight championship on the line against Ken Norton tonight.

"I don't want to lose it." Ali didn't mean that this will be his last fight but that he was getting down that road toward retirement. The champion is 34.

And he is the 8-5 favorite to keep that road open by beating Norton in their third meeting — each won a split 12-round decision in 1973 with Norton breaking Ali's jaw in the first fight.

The fight was scheduled to start in Yankee Stadium at 10:30 p.m., EDT, with a the closed-circuit telecast to open at 9:30 p.m., with a 10-round heavyweight bout between Ernie Shavers and Henry Clark.

Your Horoscope by FRANCIS DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR WEDNESDAY

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): You can run an efficient, flexible program if you remain your innately logical self, and keep your mind free of irrelevancies. Unusual ideas and methods favored.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): A day of great inspiration! Your innate perspicacity and knack for pleasing, applied in the right areas, could boost your status considerably.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): Many skirmishes can be lost, but the final battle gloriously won. You may face trials and opposition now, but keep working toward that wonderful conclusion!

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): Exercise extreme caution in financial matters. Due to having insufficient data, there could be danger in signing contracts, especially.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): A new light thrown upon certain situations should prime you for fine advancement in the offing. Rouse yourself to work for superlative attainment.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): Maintain an intelligent, critical distance from those who do not hold to your principles while you also aim to better understand their reasoning.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): Don't believe everything you hear now, but look for the truth and, when you find it, recognize, respect it. Rumors may be spread deliberately.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 23): Don't crowd yourself or others with too many activities, too many balls to juggle at once. Neither anticipate difficulties nor leave yourself open to them.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): Don't let the restrictions of routine dampen your ardor for achievement. But, on the other hand, don't overtax yourself. There are judicious limitations for all endeavors.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): You may have a tendency toward lethargy now. Don't yield to it, since the best intentions in the world will produce nothing if not followed up by constructive effort. In self-mastery lies your answer.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): As with Capricorn, you may have to discipline yourself sternly to keep on the road to accomplishment. Be especially careful not to lose your self-control if certain persons annoy.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Your capacity for recognizing the plights and misfortunes of others needed now. Do all in your power to assuage distress, inspire others to superior performance.

YOU BORN TODAY are endowed with fine judgment and a good sense of balance; are highly energetic and extremely versatile - especially along creative lines. The Libran is an excellent organizer and has been known to take over a business, completely change its systems and procedures, and make it a livelier, more profitable one. Your fair-mindedness, impartiality and objectivity are outstanding and make you an excellent arbitrator or mediator. The artistic side of your nature will best express itself in music, literature, painting, designing or on the stage. Birthdate of: Robert (Lord) Clive, founder Empire of Brit. Three People Injured In Automobile Accidents

Three people were injured in two auto crashes investigated Monday by Pickaway County Sheriff's Deputies.

Two escaped serious injury when their car jumped a ditch on Route 138 and flipped to its top.

Mark A. Sullivan, 17, 150 W. Brown St., Frankfort, and Timothy T. Cunningham, 17, 22 N. Second St., Frankfort, were treated at Berger Hospital for minor cuts and abrasions to their face and legs and later released.

Deputy R. L. Phillips cited Sullivan for reckless operation following his investigation of the 7:55 p.m. crash three-tenths of a mile south of the Dunlap Road intersection.

According to his report, Sullivan was driving south on Route 138 and entering a slight left curve when he drove left of center and off the left side.

The car traveled 282 feet in the ditch before returning to the paved surface. However, the vehicle continued off the right side and into a ditch.

It struck and landed on top of a guard rail, flipped to its left side, jumped across a 12-foot deep ditch, and hit and destroyed a utility pole.

The car continued 42 feet on its side before rolling to its top.

Twenty-six-year-old Marjorie A. Lemaster, 180 N. Long St., Ashville, was referred to a physician for a minor injury to her right knee following a 7:56 a.m. Monday accident on County Road 511 at the Marshall Road intersection.

Ms. Lemaster apparently bumped her knee on the steering column of her car after striking an auto driven by Dr. Prime Exconde, 39, 1570 Quinby Road.

Deputy Sheriff Jim Deal said Ms. Lemaster was driving south on County Road 511 when Dr. Exconde failed to yield the right of way and pulled his car from Marshall Road into her path of travel.

No charges were filed.

Bureau Of Motor Vehicles Releases License Funds

Governor James A. Rhodes today announced that the Bureau of Motor Vehicles (BMV) has a third monthly installment of $4.5 million in 1976 license plate revenues ready for distribution among the state's 88 counties.

Governor Rhodes said BMV Registrar Curtis Andrews has informed him that this disbursement will bring total payments for the current license year to more than $145 million. He added that, in all, $186.6 million in vehicle registration fees have been released to local governments during calendar year 1976; with all funds earmarked for road improvement projects.

The distribution included $8,842.45 to Pickaway County.

The Saltcreek Twp. board of trustees have issued invitations to residents of the township to attend a meeting 7 p.m. Monday in the county engineer's office, Pickaway County Court House.

$3 Added To Municipal Court Costs

The Municipal Court announced that court costs will be higher as of Wednesday.

Carolyn Royster, clerk, said that according to House Bill 82, $3 will be added to the existing $9 against any person guilty of any offense, excluding certain minor traffic violations.

This added cost will be transferred to the state's reparations rotary fund to compensate victims of crime.

It will be enforced by the local Municipal Court on the date stated in the house bill.

Robbers Slash Man

John Neal, 15145 Gibson Road, Route 2, Ashville, was assaulted and cut by two men who were apparently attempting to steal items from a truck at his home.

Neal was treated by members of the Scioto Twp. Emergency Squad for lacerations to his arms, chest, and stomach in the 11:30 p.m. Monday incident, according to Pickaway County Deputy Sheriff Jim Fite.

The men fled on foot after Neal managed to free himself, and ran into a field on the south side of his property.

The suspects apparently eluded an extensive search by Sheriff's Deputies.

Neal was apparently investigating unusual noises on his property 11:30 p.m. when he saw movement by a 1970 Ford Van panel truck owned by his father, Lewis Neal.

As he approached the rear of the van, the men jumped out. One grabbed Neal by the arms while the other slashed him with a knife-like object.
